Visible Manifestation of the Invisible in the Christian Tradition

This paper discusses the phenomenon of the visible manifestation of the invisible God in Christianity. According to the Christian tradition, the divine image is present in every man because he was created in the "image and likeness" of the Creator and was called to union with God. Using intellect and reasoning, man knows the voice of God who calls him to do good and flee from evil. However, since the beginning of history, man abused his freedom and committed evil there. Thus the divine image was deformed in man by sin. To save him, God sent his Son into the world, who became man to be our model of holiness. It is in Jesus Christ, "image of the invisible God" (Col 1:15), that the divine image, deformed in man by sin, was restored in its original beauty.
